This week's English is based around Blown Away by Rob Biddulph. If you don't have a copy of the book at home, there is the link above where the story is read for the children.

Penguin Blue is an adventurous sort of chap – he finds himself in three locations – the frozen ice, over the sea and in the jungle. Think of your own animal and plot its course over three locations – . I have done one for you…

Draw yours here.
