

Share the video of the very lazy ladybird.

Think about all of the different things that the animals do (roar, jump, scratch etc). These are all doing words and are called verbs.

Can you act out the verbs from the story? Can you think of any other verbs? Can you think of verbs to describe how different insects move?

Read the cards on the next pages and see if you can move like the different minibeasts. Maybe you could play a game, where you move like a minibeast, and someone has to guess what minibeast they are! You could take it in turns pretending to be the minibeast!
