The next day, Elif and Adam were walking to school.

“There must have been a mistake,” said Elif. “There’s no way that we will have a pirate for a teacher!”

However, when they walked into the classroom, Captain Sandsurf was stood at the front!

“Good morning children,” he said.

“Today is Tuesday which means treasure hunting!”

The children stared at Captain Sandsurf with open mouths. Tuesday was usually for maths, music and PE!

“Happy Wednesday everyone,” said Captain Sandsurf as the children sat down. “Ms Pennypinch has asked us to stay on dry land today. We won’t be going out to sea.”

“Instead, I’ve left my ship in the playground. We’re going to learn how to fire the cannons!”

.....

7. Draw three lines to show what the children did on each day.

Monday

They hunted for treasure.

Tuesday

They fired the cannons.

Wednesday

They met Captain Sandsurf.

We're off on an Adventure!

We're off on an adventure
to sail the open sea.
It's going to be amazing!
Oh, won't you come with me?

We're off on an adventure –
a pirate's life is great.
We'll find some gold and silver with our trusty first mate!

8. It's going to be amazing

These words show that the poet feels...

We're out on our adventure;
the ship will tilt and sway.
It's hot out on the open deck –
we're in the sun all day!

We're out on our adventure
to far and distant lands.
People scream and run to hide
when we dock on the sand.

10. the ship will tilt and sway

What does this mean?

Tick one.

The ship is brand new.

☐

The ship will not move.

☐

The ship will make lots of stops.

☐

The ship will move around.

We've finished our adventure;
the treasure's safely stored.
Sailors start to swab the deck
so Captain climbs aboard.

We're home from our adventure
and already miss the sea.
One thing that's for certain now:
a pirate's life for me!

12. Which of these do you think the poet is likely to say at the end of the adventure?

Tick one.

- I do not like pirate ships.
- I want to go on another adventure!
- We did not get any treasure this time.
- I am not sure that I like the sea.

Ching Shih was in charge of lots of ships. These ships were called junks. Many people think that she was in charge of over 1,000 ships!

All of the ships in Ching Shih's fleet were given coloured flags. These flags showed where they needed to be in the group. Any ship which had a red flag sailed at the front. This led to them being called the Red Flag Fleet.

16. Find and copy one word from this page that means a group of ships.

Ching Shih was a fierce and scary leader.

There were lots of rules on her ships and every pirate had to follow them. One of the rules said that if a ship found any loot or treasure, it had to be handed over to Ching Shih. The ship would be given a little bit back but the rest would be kept to pay for more pirating adventures.

18. Who had to follow Ching Shih's rules?
